

U.S. Primed to Fight Soviet to Save Free World, Truman Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17 (AP)—President Truman boldly proclaimed tonight this country's readiness to fight Russia anywhere in the world to put down aggression and preserve "our free way of life."

The American people, he said in probably the toughest speech he ever delivered, "hate war," but "love our liberties," and "will not see them destroyed."

He pledged this country's growing military might to support the peoples of all Asia to help "attain and defend their independence."

In an address broad enough to cover an offer of troops to India, Nationalist China, Indochina or any other country under danger of Communist attack, Mr. Truman bluntly warned Russia:

"We want peace. But it must be a peace founded on justice."
He made it clear, however, that the United States will not hesitate to go to war at any point in the Far East or elsewhere over the globe if this step is necessary to preserve the independence of free nations.

THE PRESIDENT said the United States and other free nations must "oppose strength with strength" at a time when "in both Europe and Asia," vast armies of Soviet Russia and its satellites "post a constant threat to peace."

Asserting the "evil spirit of aggression is still abroad in the world," he added, "we are all faced with a clear and present danger."

He said the United States is prepared to meet "the dangers" and warned:

"Let no aggressor make any mistake about that."

He pointed out that the United States has been giving military aid to "countries threatened by aggression" and that Secretary of State Acheson is pushing a plan in the U. N. for quick joint action "in case of any outbreak of aggression."

And, reminding untold millions of listeners throughout the world that "our men are fighting now in Asia" to preserve the independence of a small nation he said the U. S. will help others in that area to "attain and defend their independence."

The President scornfully contrasted this country's offer to the Far East of a "partnership of peace" with Russia's desire to turn Asiatic peoples into "slaves of a new imperialism."

HE WARNED RUSSIA that the United States will not hesitate to go to war to resist aggression and defend "our liberties."

Speaking in San Francisco's War Memorial Opera house where he witnessed the signing of the United Nations charter five years ago, Mr. Truman, fresh from his dramatic Wake Island conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, declared he was confident "in our long-range ability to maintain world peace."

Spring City Motorcyclist Is Reported Improved

Morris Engle, 16-year-old Spring City motorcyclist, who was thrown from his machine Monday night, was reported "greatly improved" by Memorial hospital authorities last night.

Engle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Engle, of Penn street, Spring City, was found to have suffered a broken nose. It was feared at first he may have suffered a serious neck injury.

The youth, who was thrown from his motorcycle at the intersection of New street and Route 83, was unconscious when he was brought to the hospital. He was unable to tell how the accident happened.

Hospital authorities said his condition now may be called "good."

Arson Attempt Fails In Private Garage

A crude attempt to set fire to a two-car frame garage on Rowan avenue, just east of Charlotte street, was discovered last night by nearby residents after the attempt had failed.

No damage was done to the garage, owned by Paul G. Bower, 118 North Charlotte street.

But lubricating oil, which was used for the arson attempt, was sprinkled over two tires and the seat of a girl's bicycle, causing possible damage to those articles.

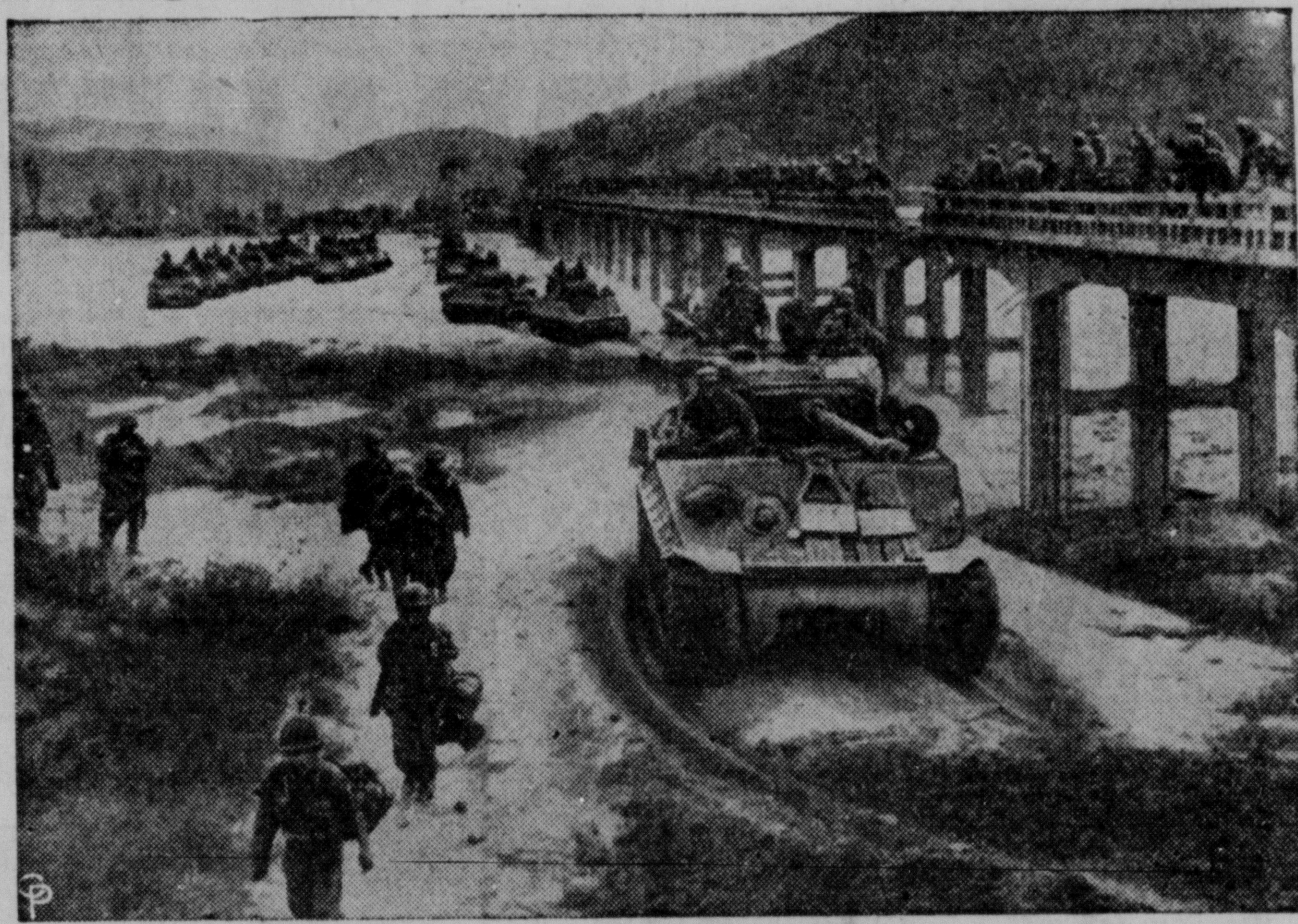

The oil had been poured on the floor near the north and east walls. A grocery handbill had been ignited in an effort to touch off the oil, but the flame had died out when it was discovered.

POLICE SGT. THOMAS A. Lawler, who investigated, gave this account of the attempt:

At about 7:45 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Kerr, who live in Lamb's

High Road and Low Road in Embattled Korea

Unwilling to trust the shaky bridge that crosses a river in North Korea, Allied tanks take to the dry river bed as the safest way of reaching their objective on the opposite bank. Infantrymen seeking a shorter route, take the high road to their goal. Hitting from four directions, in a giant pincer movement, Allied troops are now reported in an all-out drive on the North Korean capital city of Pyongyang.

Roaring GIs, South Koreans Race for Pyongyang Entry

TOKYO, Wednesday, Oct. 18 (AP)—South Korean and American troops raced each other for the Red capital of Pyongyang today. South Korean advance units were reported only eight miles away this morning.

The Republic of Korea's first division reached that position at 9 a. m. (7 p. m. Pottstown time, Tuesday). South of Pyongyang, advance units of the U. S. First cavalry were reported this morning within 14 miles of the capital.

Organized resistance on the road to the Red capital appeared ended. The climax to the 15-week-old war seemed near at hand. U. S. and South Korean columns sped forward on all fronts.

Hundreds of Red troops, ordered to make a death-stand defense of Pyongyang, downed their arms. Advancing U. S. columns sped past huge piles of abandoned supplies, arms and ammunition, field dispatches said.

Communist Chieftain Kim Il Sung and other leaders of his collapsing Pyongyang government may have fled to the Manchurian border or to a mountain hideout near it, some high American Army officers and Korean civilian sources believe.

AS THE MASSIVE United Nations breakthrough drive gathered momentum, the South Korean Capital division and elements of the twin industrial cities of Hamhung and Hungnam on the east coast. Mopping-up operations were in progress in the two cities, 110 miles south of the Manchurian border, Eighth Army headquarters said.

On the west coast the veteran U. S. 24th division, after rolling 78 miles in 24 hours, was given the important mission of clearing Chinnampo, Pyongyang's port 27 air miles southwest of the Red capital.

The main drive was for Pyongyang, however.

Charge Not Filed By Police Against 'Mystery' Motorist

Pottstown's mystery "reckless driver," who slid to a screaming stop at High and Hanover streets early Sunday in response to a policeman's whistle, is still unidentified this morning.

Neither of the borough's two active justices of the peace have received information against him on which to base a summons for his appearance or the payment of a fine.

Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus said yesterday he is not handling police cases this month.

At the same time, Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley said he had received nothing pertaining to the incident.

PATROLMAN JAMES P. Maloney who drove from the scene of the incident to borough hall in the motorist's car after it halted, asserted Monday night that he would file reckless driving charges against the man within 15 days. Maloney declined to name him.

The officer said he entered the automobile and drove with its occupant to borough hall "for psychological reasons" after a crowd began to gather at the intersection.

Kiwanians Fete Pottstown Industries In Observance of Pennsylvania Week

Pottstown's industries, its products and their many uses were put on display last night at a meeting of the Kiwanis club.

In observance of Pennsylvania Week, the club invited each of its members associated with a local industry or producer to speak for two minutes on his firm and its contribution to the community and the nation.

Fifteen speakers were called to the floor by C. Raymond Eppelimer who made the introductions to the 70 members and guests present in the Elks club.

Following the short talks and a demonstration of products on display from various firms, Carson C. Potter, president, said it is evident many items are made here that few people are aware of.

CLUB MEMBERS who spoke and the companies with which they are associated were the following:

- Harry W. Burdett, Salford Furniture and Cabinet company;
 - Harry W. Ruchert, Stanley G. Flag company;
 - Samuel Brown, Pottstown Cement Block company;
 - William H. Curtiss, Curtiss and Smith Manufacturing corporation;
 - Martin Felt, Doehler-Jarvis corporation;
 - Paul E. Frye, Pottstown Metal Welding company.
- Also William W. Hubertus, Hubertus Pastry shop; Emil Schultz, Dana division of the Spicer Manufacturing company; P. Leon Huber, Varcraft Works, Inc.; Raymond H. Piersol, Pottstown Metal Products company; Phillip H. Stephens, Firestone Tire and Rubber company; Edwin P. Yarnall, Pottstown Machine company; Francis W. Hunsberger, Pottstown Abattoir; Robert C. PLANNING HERE NOT SUBJECT TO COUNTY AGENCY

Commission's Director Explains It Acts Only As Advisor to Borough

By EDWARD B. ROSENBERG

(Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown will not have to follow the recommendations of the Montgomery County Planning commission on borough planning project plans, borough officials were told last night.

David D. Longmaid, of Ardmore, director of the commission, said at a meeting in borough hall, that boroughs are required to submit plans, but at the end of 20 days they may act independently.

"The boroughs are not bound by the commission's recommendations at any time," he said.

Longmaid spoke to members of the Planning and Zoning commission, council's committee to function with that group, and other borough leaders.

The meeting was called after the planning commission announced that after Oct. 31, all plans for housing developments throughout the county would have to be submitted to it for approval.

The commission is backed by State law in requiring the submission of subdivision plans.

LAST NIGHT, Horace Y. Seidel, chairman of the town's Planning and Zoning commission; C. Edmund Wells, borough solicitor, and Borough Manager Dow L. Sears went to the special meeting believing, from the commission's own letter and specifications, that plans for developments in Pottstown would have to be approved by the county group.

But Longmaid assured them that the commission, so far as boroughs are concerned, is an advisory group only. Seidel said he would ask for written assurance of Longmaid's liberal but oral interpretation.

The county commission's specifications set up standards for roads, the land itself, block and lot sizes, utility lines and recreation areas.

They are primarily for the engineering and utility phases of housing developments. Local building codes govern details of home construction.

RAYMOND H. PIERSOL, representative of the Pottstown area on the nine-man commission, opened the meeting with a brief explanation of the organization's purposes.

"It is something that everyone will benefit from eventually," he said, after telling how it could help plan new communities of homes.

He said the biggest problems were in the lower end of the county, where the Eastern terminus of the Pennsylvania Turnpike will bring new homes, businesses and industries, and in the pennsburg area, where housing demands are expected to grow when the U. S. Steel corporation builds its new Bucks county rolling mill.

Piersol and Longmaid told the borough officials, "The greatest service the planning commission can render Pottstown is through its advisory capacity."

In practice, they pointed out, the pattern of streets and utility services, such as sewer and water lines, are well established here.

IN RURAL TOWNSHIP areas, Longmaid explained, where projects are "plastic," starting with only the undeveloped land, the commission

Brookside Club Plans Masked Ball Oct. 28

Plans for a masked ball Oct. 28 were discussed at a short business session of the board of governors of the Brookside Country club last night.

Arrangements for the Halloween affair are in charge of an entertainment committee headed by W. Kenneth Nichols.

Present at the meeting were President Elmer J. Jackson, Larry Orrell, Dr. Charles A. Baylor, George A. Lessig, Floyd E. Seeders, Benjamin H. Longaker, Karl Schumacher, John W. Leavelle, J. R. Sotter, Robert P. Page and Nichols.

Registrations for the May primaries were 125,174 Republicans, 28,435 Democrats, 2,933 non-partisans, 52 Socialists, 12 Progressives, and eight Prohibitionists.

Totals for the primaries were 156,614 voters.

The three members of the commission, Foster C. Hillegass, Raymond K. Mensch and Frederick C. Peters compiled the registrations by districts.

DISTRICTS in the Pottstown area were listed by Chief Clerk Kenneth H. Hallman as follows:

Collegeville: 449 Republicans, 85

EARNS LOFTY SURGEON AWARD

Dr. Glocker Granted Top Honor

Dr. Rudolph Karl Glocker, 701 Main street, Royersford, has earned the title of a certified fellow of the U. S. chapter, International College of Surgeons — the highest earned honor given by the organization.

This was announced yesterday by A. C. Seawell, administrator of Pottstown hospital, where Dr. Glocker is a staff member. Seawell said that he is the first staff surgeon to achieve the rank.

Dr. Glocker is scheduled to go to the organization's convention in Cleveland, Ohio, on Friday, Nov. 3, to receive the honor, Seawell said.

To become eligible, Dr. Glocker had to pass a series of oral and written examinations extending over several days at the international group's headquarters in Chicago, Ill., Seawell asserted.

In addition, Dr. Glocker had to meet the organization's requirements of practical experience in surgical work at Pottstown hospital. Dr. Glocker will be a fellow in general surgery.

Philadelphia Man Sues To Recover $25,000 Lost in Area Co. Stock

Lewis Crusco, Philadelphia, the man who dumped $34,000 from a suitcase onto a desk to buy an interest in the Strunk Steel company, Royersford, a few months before it went bankrupt, has filed suit for recovery of the money, it was learned yesterday.

The $34,000 transaction figured prominently in a Senate committee's inquiry into big time numbers-writing gamblers in Philadelphia Saturday.

Federal investigators for the committee, chairmanned by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), affirmed yesterday that they will continue their investigation of where Crusco obtained that much spot cash.

Crusco, it was learned, filed the legal action in Philadelphia county court of common pleas against Lewis Campbell Jr., Arch and Cherry streets, Spring City.

Campbell's attorney, Claude B. Wagoner, of Spring City, said last night: "An answer has been filed completely denying all the charges."

The civil suit has been ordered for trial and is expected to come to trial within three to four months.

IT WAS LEARNED that Crusco also has filed a criminal suit on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses against both Campbell and William M. Strunk, 800 Church street, Royersford, president of the Strunk Steel company before it went bankrupt.

This case is expected to come to trial within one month. It will be tried in the Philadelphia quarter sessions court. Campbell will be represented in this case by Wagoner and by Philadelphia Attorney Earl Gratz, who has been preparing for the defense for the past several months.

Crusco brought a civil action for recovery of the money against Campbell and Strunk in 1949. This case went to the State Supreme court, which threw it out, so far as Strunk was concerned, because of an improper service of the original warrant.

APPROXIMATELY $25,000 of the $34,000 spent by Crusco was for stock owned by Campbell. The $9000 balance was for other company assets.

Meanwhile, Pottstown area men acquainted with the firm's history, said yesterday that Crusco had carried the money with him in his car for some

Leo F. Spaar Dies; Ex-Councilman

Leo Francis Spaar, 35, of 425 South street, Democratic borough councilman from the Fourth ward from 1944 until 1948, died at his home yesterday morning at 1:28 o'clock.

He had been in ill health for the past five years, following two major operations.

He declined to be a candidate to succeed himself in the council post because of his poor health.

"He felt he shouldn't run because he wouldn't be able to give the job his whole-hearted efforts," a member of his family said.

Mr. Spaar, a worker at the Doehler-Jarvis corporation plant for 11 years, had first decided to run for councilman after he had joined his wife, Kathryn (Dobry) Spaar, Democratic committee woman for the ward, in active political work.

He won the election held Nov. 2, 1943, by a margin of 106 to 62 votes over his Republican opponent, Frank Cipriero, 380 South street.

At the 1947 election, a brother, Harold Spaar, was elected to succeed him. The brother resigned shortly after taking office because he was moving from the borough.

MR. SPAAR was born in Gilbertsville. His father, William Spaar, died 14 years ago. His mother, Leah (Geiger) Spaar, died the past February.

He came with his family to Pottstown when he was nine years old and lived here continuously afterward. He had lived at the South street address since his marriage 13 years ago.

During the past five years he had been timekeeper at Doehler's. A member of St. Aloysius Catholic church and its Holy Name society, he also was a member of the Eagles Home Association; Pottstown Nest 150, Fraternal Order of Orioles; Deacons' club and Poplar Rest Sportsmen's club.

SURVIVING ARE his wife; a two-year-old son, Joseph Leo, and a ten-year-old daughter, Kathleen.

Also surviving are three brothers, Walter, 52 Chestnut street; Raymond, Philadelphia, and Harold.

Battle Against Reds Seen Slowed by U. S. Disregard of Vatican

The failure of the United States to establish diplomatic relations with the Vatican is making the formation of a united front against Communist aggression more difficult, the Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, told the Lions club last night.

By isolating the Vatican diplomatically, this country is playing into Russia's hands, he declared.

The Rev. Begley prefaced his talk to 45 members of the club with the prediction that the controversial issue of the United States' relations with the Vatican would be brought to the fore in the near future. He pointed out the only two major powers in the world not represented at Rome are Russia and this country.

"Political astuteness demands that the United States not imitate Russia in remaining isolated diplomatically from the Holy See," the Rev. Begley went on to say. "By reason of ideology and by reason of its ruthless disregard of human and divine values, Russia cannot utilize the great moral force of the papacy and the diplomatic ability of the Vatican foreign office."

"Both Soviet leaders and the Vatican officials realize that there can be no peace between the two. One or the other must disappear or undergo radical, revolutionary change before the two powers can live at peace."

"RUSSIAN POLICY has consequently been aimed at isolating the Vatican as a force in international affairs," he continued, "a policy Russia has hammered away at

Hilldale Man Awarded $272.91 Damages
In Stabbing During Argument Over Trash

John W. Buckwalter, Hilldale, was awarded $272.91 in damages yesterday from George Sabo, 46 Warwick Settlement, as a result of being stabbed by the 61-year-old Sabo across a fence when they were next-door neighbors.
The award, made by a Chester county jury in West Chester, covered Buckwalter's medical bills, a week's pay he missed and compensation for the suffering and scarring caused by the eight-inch slash on Buckwalter's face.
Sabo told the jury and Judge Ernest Harvey that on March 23, 1949, he had asked the 33-year-old Buckwalter, who then lived next door at 45 Warwick Settlement, to remove some trash from an outbuilding.
This request led to Buckwalter calling him names and then striking him, Sabo asserted. As Buckwalter was about to strike him again, Sabo said, he had a "black-out."
It was during this "blackout" that

Guns Cannot Destroy Hate

ON SUNDAY, Pottstown Catholics as well as others in every section of the United States and of the world, will join in their churches to pray for the missions and the 80,000 men and women who have left their homes and countries to labor in them.

They form an army of peace that never admits defeat.

For a century before World War II, they and those who had gone on before them had built churches, schools, orphanages and hospitals.

Our own GIs in the Pacific theatre saw them standing in the midst of the ruins of their fortresses of peace.

In fact, far flung as were the operations of our military, they scarcely came to a place where the missionaries had not been there a long time before them.

And after the guns of war had been silenced and the soldiers had bid them goodbye, they stayed on to build anew in the hearts of men what the hatred and brutality of war had shattered.

Undismayed by the present tragedies, they will go on again.

Improvement in the weapons of war has not stopped war nor has it softened the hearts of men.

The missionaries, these men of God, have the answer to world peace.

Good will toward men is of the spirit.

Guns and cannon are incapable of even destroying hate. Much less can they build good will. Impersonal aid, doled out to individuals, is soon forgotten when a new need arises.

Kindness, trust and faith of humans in the name of God will transform the face of the earth for its lasting betterment.

A simple prayer for the missions is the work of the men of peace.

Our Dutch Cooking

LET'S NOT forget, during this Pennsylvania Week, the contribution to the culinary art made by some of our "Pennsylvania Dutch" friends in the Pottstown area.

The early Pennsylvania Dutch, were heirs to a European culture deeply steeped in epicurean pleasures.

This background was perhaps the reason why deep-dish apple pies appeared in Pennsylvania earlier than anywhere else in America — why the first specialized use of dried fruits in pies was started.

Old Dutch ovens dehydrated and slow-dried cherries, apples, pears, or plums to retain the juiciness of the fruit in preparation for a mouth-watering pie or apple "schnitzel and knepp."

The ingenuity and originality of Pottstown area housewives raised Pennsylvania cooking to an art unsurpassed by that of any other section of the country.

To early settlers, something called "pon-haus," was indispensable. Now it's known as scrapple.

Dinner with local Pennsylvania Dutch was always an event. Soup was the most popular beginning for a meal. Beef, pepper pot, brown potato chowder, brown flour, or the calf's head were popular and inexpensive and sometimes called "poverty soups."

Relishes were one of the main things in which the local housewife's originality and inventiveness were shown to best advantage. Even today in the rural districts, no housewife who had the slightest respect for herself would dream of asking her family, much less guests, to sit down to a table that didn't have at least the "seven sweets and seven savors" gracing the table. Rhubarb jam, lemon honey, cherry relish, pear marmalade and quince marmalade were included among the "sweets;" green tomato relish, cucumber relish, vegetable catsup, and pickle relish were some of the "savors."

As tribute to their baking skill, "Fasnacht Day" still is observed once a year. On that day thousands and thousands of Fasnachts are baked in this part of the State. These doughnut-like treats are very good for dunking in coffee, or molasses, or both.

Another unique recipe is shoo-fly pie. Another small-boy favorite was "funny cake," which started out to be a chocolate pie and ended up having plain cake dough poured over it just before it was baked. Cinnamon buns baked locally, (as in Collegeville) probably the biggest and best the world has ever known.

Yes, this area is a noted portion of Pennsylvania. The area around the dinner table still is the most historic!

Thinks It's a Mr. Big
To the Editor: You've got me curious. Now I want to know what Mr. Big was arrested for and so quickly sped away from the eyes of the public crowd.

If the patrolman who wants to "protect" people thinks it over, he may realize he's really trying to "protect" himself—from the embarrassment that comes to many a cop when he arrests a man and later finds this man has been "excused" by one of the higher-ups in the police department.

I know of one case where this was done. There may have been others. You know what the public thinks when this happens, don't you? They think some police officer's palm is being greased by Mr. Big's money. Are they right? Pottstown BLACKY

Not So Courteous to All
To the Editor: Who are the police shielding in this reckless driving case on High street?

I'm sure if I or any other of thousands of good citizens got into trouble we would get our names in the newspaper the next day. The police would drag us out of our cars and haul us away by the nape of the neck to the borough hall cooler.

You can be sure we wouldn't ride away in our own cars.

Wealth-Seeking Prompts Spread of Red Doctrine

By ROGER WARREN

(Ray Tucker in on a vacation.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Most Americans regard Russia's imperialism largely as an effort to spread the doctrine of Communism. They think of it as a sort of perverted, brutalized and bloody idealism. But a lot of evidence has been accumulated by the State department and the Pentagon to show that the number one purpose is to gain wealth. Doctrine is merely an opiate with which to put the victims to sleep while the commissars ransack their country.

In this, the Russian policy parallels that of Hitler. In the occupied countries, Hitler took labor, materials for war and works of art, paying for it in paper money that had little value. The Russians have also seized manpower. But their interest in art is small. They are largely interested in gaining control over minerals, food and other forms of economic wealth.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA: Earlier this month reports came in that Russian experts were taking over post positions in the Skoda and other armament works in Czechoslovakia. This adds an exclamation point to earlier reports showing how the Kremlin has gobbled up the wealth of the country.

In 1947, Russia obtained by purchase 6 percent of the Czech exports. The share shot up rapidly after the Red took over. Confidential reports to the State department indicate Russia is taking 50 percent of exports this year. Meanwhile, Czech exports have risen from $507,000,000 in 1947 to an estimated $700,000,000 this year.

Russia is still paying for these goods — on paper. Moscow is shipping in grains, ore and cotton. The ores are inferior, so much so that the Czechs have had to buy Swedish ore to mix with the Russian ore. The cotton is inferior. Before Russia took the cotton in inferior, Czechoslovakia used to buy most of its cotton from other countries.

POLAND: The same pattern of economic conquest has been followed in Poland, East Germany, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. Albania is poor in farm, mine and factory products but it has an enormous asset for Muscovite imperialism in outlets to the Mediterranean.

One of the basic reasons Tito split with the Cominform was his fear that Russia would loot Yugoslavia of its wealth in minerals.

Through all these satellite countries, Russia is feverishly grabbing uranium ores. In some cases the exploited countries get some return in employment of local labor, but in other instances the Russians bring in their own labor. If anyone is paid for the ore itself, our intelligence abroad does not show it.

KOREA: Even Korea, poor though it is, has loatable quantities of mineral wealth. The Japanese showed that during their occupation. They exhausted and depleted the larger solid deposits of Korea and were taking 400 tons of tungsten a month in 1944.

What the Soviets have taken out of China is not clear. Before the overthrow of Chiang Kai-shek on the mainland, Russia had seized and transported to Russia many factories and plants in Manchuria. They had been built under Japanese domination, but the manpower and the materials that went into them were Chinese. The West Berlin newspaper Der Tag says that Chinese labor is being imported into Siberia to mine uranium and reported that 20,000 are expected.

INDO-CHINA: The threatening march through Indo-China may be motivated by a desire to get rice rather than to bring in the word of Lenin. Indo-China has always been a rice export country. So are Burma and Siam, which also appear to be objectives of the threatening Sino-Russian drive south. Almost three million tons a year were shipped to rice-hungry South China before it was won by the Communists. Since then, this trade has been cut off.

This has resulted in a rice shortage in southern China; hence the Chinese Red's willingness to storm south when Russia gives the signal.

Tragedies Repeated

To the Editor: Your society pages again were filled with accounts of weddings today.

Couples are rushing to the altars so that young men will not be called in the draft. Maybe they're planning on a family right away because General Hershey said fathers won't be called.

Many a tragedy in and near Pottstown started this way during World War II. Boy and girl rushed off and got married. Boy was called into the Army. He never came back. Girl was left at home, a widow at 20, and a baby in the cradle. What kind of foolishness is this that we never profit by previous mistakes? Pottstown MRS. F. D. W.

Needed Husbands

To the Editor: Why is it, if our husbands have spent their time in the Army and their time is up, that they can't come home, and let the others who are coming in take their places?

Our husbands are up in age now, and would be more help here at home. My husband has spent three years in the Air Force. His time is up. Why can't he come now? I need him.

Not the American Way
To the Editor: The dole and "handout state" is becoming an obsession with most of our people who work for a living. It's coming to the point where the workers will let the State and government think for them.

And then what? Will we drift down the easy road to incompetence and dry rot?

This is not the American way of life as our fathers and forefathers meant it to be.

Reason for Hope

To the Editor: I parked my car on High street, between Evans and Franklin street, Thursday, and hunted in my pocket for a penny to put in the parking meter.

No penny. No nickel. Nothing smaller than a quarter, which the meters don't take.

As I stood there, pondering my predicament, a lady walked toward me, opened her purse and handed me a penny, saying: "You need this!"

Seeing my confusion, she said: "This won't make me any poorer, nor any richer," and walked on. I recovered my wits, but not in time to get her name.

There is still hope for the human race.

The Worry Clinic

BAMBI, I was our dog at the farm where we spend the summer months and many week-ends during the winter.

"He got at the sheep again last night," Uncle Vic informed me as I stopped off for a few hours en route to Chicago from a speaking trip in the South.

"Then this morning I saw him chasing one of the ewes in broad daylight, so I'm afraid there's nothing we can do but get rid of him."

Well, you might as well shoot him now before the children get down here," I said.

But my uncle was too soft-hearted to do that, so he loaded Bambi into his car, and also picked up the police dog on the next farm, who was likewise implicated.

Then he drove over to the soap factory and left the dogs there, to be killed and converted into a more useful product.

Lana Turner

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 17 — George Montgomery is jumping into the independent producing field with both feet, to coin a phrase. Not only is he planning to star his ever-lovin' spouse, Dinah Shore, in a musical (wot else?) but he'll also star himself in an outdoor action opus. Couldn't happen to two dreamier people.

There's a buzz around that Lana Turner is thinking of setting up her own producing company when her contract with Metro expires next year. There's also a gas around that she's planning to produce a picture with Metro.

agoes, Lana's latest picture, "A Life of Her Own" — not even her own — on account of the film could use more life. . . . Sessue Hawakawa is currently playing the role of Jean Valjean in a Japanese remake of the Victor Hugo classic, "Les Misérables." The same kerrick that Frederic March brought to the American screen in a great way several years ago.

THE AGNES MOOREHEAD — Jack Lee unmelting doings may, unfortunately get rather messy before the proceedings are over. Not that you'd call it "good, clean fun" up to now. . . . Too bad, but "Johnny Holiday" produced by Ronnie Alcorn, has been taken over by the Kansas Milling Company and temporarily removed from theatres. Picture was partially financed by this outfit that is now looking for a way to get their money back. . . . Peggy Goodin, who authored Jean Crain's current starrer, "Take Care of My Little Girl" is staying in Hollywood to write another book based on evangelism as practiced in mid-west America.

GILBERT ROLAND has snagged the third lead in "Don Renegade" with Cyd Charisse and Ricardo Montalban at Metro. . . . Marta Toren tears herself away from Howard Duff next week to do some stage touring in Canada plugging her latest, "Deported." . . . Band-leader Frankie Carle plans opening a series of piano-teaching studios across the land. . . . Colleen Gray and Bob Clarke (he's the male lead in "Mother of a Champion") are as warm as our current heat wave. . . . The new Martin and Lewis nightclub act includes a hilarious burlesque of a Rumba lesson at Arthur Murray's. . . . Greer Garson's first American citizenship papers should be coming through any day now.

BETCHA ANNE Sterling and radio producer Freeman Lusk were quietly wed in Nevada about six months ago, with the secrecy possible because she used her right name, Marie Ingrassia, and that they divided almost immediately after the ceremony. . . . No starlet has made more rapid strides than little Sally Forrest this past year. And now, besides being assigned one of the femme leads with Red Skelton in "Excuse My Dust," Metro is tearing up her old contract and handing her a new one with a big fat raise.

Nancy Improves... Suds Cost More...

★ REPORT ON NANCY — Not too many Christmas's ago, kind-hearted Pottsonians contributed more than $7000 to Nancy's Christmas Fund—a fund designed to rehabilitate Nancy Dalglish, Pottstown spastic. The money gave Nancy medical attention and schooling for almost two years, during which time she showed continual improvement. But then the funds gave out and Nancy came back to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Dalglish, 49 East Main street, South Pottstown. Her improvement continued, and the comely 20-year-old girl almost daily is astonishing friends by her feats. Once entirely helpless, not able to walk or feed herself, Nancy beat the latter two handicaps. She needed her mother's help. The other day, when Nancy was taking a bath, her mother heard sobs. She rushed to the bathroom, found Nancy out the tub, sitting on a bathstool, crying. "I did it myself," she said, "but then I got nervous because I realized I might have fallen and hurt myself." "God was with you," answered her mother.

FOAM UP — The price of beer bought by the case is, on its way up in Pottstown. One of the local distributors reporting the change was Frank A. Smith, 548 King street, who said that the price on four of the largest-selling premium beers had advanced 15 cents a case for home users and for local taverns. This is in line with the advance throughout the nation, following a brewer's boost of from eight to ten cents. S. Paul Seeders, 264 King street, said that the price of locally-made beer hadn't gone up, but added, "It's in the wind, though." Smith recalled that the major brewers boosted their price in February and some of the smaller dealers didn't follow suit until June.

Smoke Fills Store For Second Time as Furnace Is Lighted

Smoke filled the McCrory store, 213 High street, yesterday afternoon for the second time in 48 hours, when a fire was started in the furnace.

Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer said that a clogged chimney caused the smoke to pour into the store, just as it did Sunday afternoon.

Store attendants said they believed some candy and cake stock was damaged. Manager Henry Borowski was not available last night for an estimate of damage.

Sunday afternoon the three fire companies stood by, but yesterday afternoon, when the smoke began entering the store at 1:30 o'clock, the cause was known and they were not summoned.

Sgt. Daniel J. Linton saw that customers and personnel left the place, while Patrolman Michael Shanta stood by the fire alarm box at High and Hanover streets to make sure that no excited passer-by turned in an alarm.

By 3 o'clock, the smoke had been cleared and store personnel were able to start business again.

Lindauer said he had warned after Sunday's smoke alarm that the chimney should be cleaned. He also disclosed yesterday that the boiler room in the building was not insulated, and he ordered this defect remedied.

Under the new borough fire code, the fire chief has the authority to order fire hazards in buildings remedied.

the hospital, Guadagno returned to his home. Later, he said Hartman told him he was unable to stop in time or to avoid the collision by moving over on the road.

Guadagno believed it was possible the truck was overloaded. He asked to see the weight slip, he declared, but Hartman refused to show it to him.

State Trooper Richard Rafter, of the West Reading barracks, investigated the collision. Guadagno's car was completely wrecked and Hartman's truck was heavily damaged.

RUSSELL GEIST, 29, of 537 Howard street Stowe, crawled out of his 1940 sedan without a scratch yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock after the car overturned onto its top along East Race street in Stowe.

Geist said he was driving west down a steep hill on the gravelled street and was starting to pull out to pass a car that was stopped ahead of him when that car pulled out itself.

When Geist applied his brakes, he said, they "grabbed," sending the car out of control. He swerved to miss an electric pole, then the car rolled over to its right, coming to rest over the concrete top of a culvert in the front yard of John Rozsas, 308 East Race street.

The windshield, top and left side of the car were damaged. It was towed away.

A TRUCK AND two automobiles were damaged in a collision at High and Bailey streets at 1:48 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No one was injured.

The drivers were George E. Reed, 21 West Fourth street, in the truck; Mrs. Elizabeth E. Wolf, 308 Arch

They called to Leonard Baker and John Kane, who also live in the apartment house. Baker and Kane pried the two sliding doors of the garage apart, squeezed into the building and extinguished the smoldering paper.

Lawler found that a 4 by 2 foot frame window in the north wall had been lifted out and placed on the floor.

THE INTRUDERS apparently entered through the window, jumping to the floor via the front bumper of a Herd Studio truck, only motor vehicle in the building.

Near one wall was a red five-gallon can from which the oil apparently had been drained.

Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who will take up the investigation today, will call Charles W. Taylor, of Philadelphia, State Police arson expert, into the case.

Assisting Lindauer last night were Assistant Borough Fire Chief Irvin Scheetz and Patrolman Robert Hauser.

Marshalek told Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy that he was driving east on High street, trying to pass another car, when he saw that he would not be able to make it.

He cut short, he said, but hit the westbound truck with his left rear bumper. The truck, in turn, was forced into Mrs. Wolf's car, which was going east on High street.

They may not be recorded in the county courthouse unless they are approved. This provision does not apply to borough housing plans.

The planner also told Wells that zoning plans are something "that have to be decided on a local level." The commission could offer its advice on zoning, he said, but final action is up to the discretion of the borough.

Wells summed up with, "For practical purposes, then, your rules and regulations have no effect in the borough."

Longmaid replied, "That is correct."

Paul I. Romig was the only member of Eppelheimer's committee present, while Stanley I. Davenport Jr. was the other member of the Planning and Zoning commission. Assistant Borough Manager Frank J. Keegan was among the borough officials at the 70-minute meeting in council chambers.

"The United States, on the other hand, finds in the Vatican a natural ally in its struggle against the Kremlin. But this is an ally we can employ most effectively only when we have established diplomatic representation at the Vatican," he added.

Drawing on the historical background of American relations with the Pope in the past decade, the Rev. Begley explained they had been conducted only through the expedient of a personal presidential representative to the Holy See. This relationship came to an end the past January when President Truman accepted Myron C. Taylor's resignation.

The President, as political leader of the country, now finds himself in the same position in which he was placed when he reappointed Taylor to the Vatican over Protestant protest four years ago, he said further. He must weigh seriously the Protestant opposition to diplomatic relations with the Pope against the advantages to be obtained from such relations.

OBJECTIONS to diplomatic representation at the Vatican are based chiefly on the historic policy of separation of Church and State, the Rev. Begley said. It is felt this would be broken down and one religion favored over others.

"In answer to these arguments Catholics and most neutral observers insist that the Pope is recognized under international law as a secular sovereign," he answered. "And that our representatives at the Vatican would no more help Catholicism than Mohammedanism or Anglicanism are helped by our representatives to Turkey and England, where the chief executives are likewise the heads of religion."

"OUR FIRST obvious advantage from maintaining regular diplomatic relations with the papacy is that we would establish a connection with what is perhaps the world's most sensitive listening post," he declared.

"Diplomats are agreed that in many ways the Vatican is the best informed government in the world. Thirty-six nations are represented there by permanent embassies, including countries from behind the iron curtain, like Latvia, and countries from the Orient, like China and the new India."

Golden Age Club, a Place to Get Happy; Oldsters Make Merry at Square Dance

By FRANCES WROBEL
(Mercury Society Editor)

After the fall of life comes the "golden age," a period of calm after the turbulent storms of attaining the goal. The scores of family duties and obligations have been alleviated and the slate is rather clean, sometimes empty. But through the Golden Age club the wrinkled time-worn hands have again drawn pictures of laughter, entertainment and most important, new friends.

Every Monday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock the newfound Golden Age club, under the direction of Mr. Francis Donnon, borough recreation director, opens the doors of the YWCA auditorium to those from 60 to—with an invitation to join the happy throng.

There's always something new going on at every meeting. Each week brings a completely different schedule of entertainment. The first Monday of the month is birthday celebration day and those whose birthday anniversaries come during the month are honored at a party. It's a real four star affair with birthday cake and ice cream and all kinds of trimmings.

Sometimes there are hat socials, picnics, films, and other forms of enjoyment. But every Monday the old timers get off to a gala start with a group sing under the direction of Mrs. Robert Nagle, activities leader. Club member Mrs. Florence Garber is at the piano to play the mellow favorites the folks request.

AFTER THE sing there's always some new activity introduced and the social concludes with the favorite card games.

Anyone who has glanced in at the folks last Monday would have found a roomful of radiant crinkled faces, bobbing grey and white heads nodding to a conversational beat, and pleased chuckles filling the air. A semblance of contentment is apparent as new acquaintances become old friends.

Here at last is a club the old folks can call their own. A place bubbling with entertainment created just for their pleasure, where those who live alone are no longer so, and those who have cares and ailments forget them in the tumult of enjoyment.

The folks expressed various opinions about the club. One faithful member, Mrs. Mary Loasch, who has attended the club since the first meeting, said, the social "gives you something to laugh about afterwards."

Mrs. Loasch, who lives with her daughter Mrs. Loretta Miller, at 361 Evans street has been confined to her home for sometime with a heart condition. But the club was just what the doctor ordered. (Her physician said she might attend if the activities didn't prove too strenuous.) The slightly built, white haired lady, effervescent though she gets around with the aid of crutches, smiled although she was putting one over when she said she hadn't missed many meetings.

Sitting across the card table from Mrs. Loasch was another Golden Age club old timer Mrs. Katharine Gallagher, of 106 King street. Mrs. Gallagher shuffled the deck of cards in her hands and declared with enthusiasm that the Monday afternoon sessions were "something to look forward to." She also said "they help you to get acquainted," which is significant when you live alone as Mrs. Gallagher does.

MRS. LULU FRITZ, of 72 North Evans street, whose three married sons live out of town, agreed with Mrs. Gallagher. And Mrs. Fritz's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Fritz said she always had a good time and there was no point in stopping now. Mrs. Jennie Fritz participated in the square dance and pointed out with fervor, "let the world know you're living!"

Obviously many of the older set felt the same way about the activities of the Golden Age club especially when something new was added.

When the square dance was introduced by Mr. Donnon at the last meeting the folks shifted a bit uneasily, then as early memories came drifting back, got into the shuffle of things. The daisy-doe and swing your partners call sent old timers breathlessly stepping around and whirling their partners emitting oops and titters of laughter. "It was great," exclaimed those who joined the dancing.

"It was the first time in my life that I ever danced," declared ruddy, gray haired Mr. Warren Krouse later at a card game. "In my youth I was just too busy playing in a band to ever have an opportunity to get out on the dance floor." He spoke of the Sanatoga orchestra where he had played trombone. And Mr. Krouse, who travels from Douglassville to attend the club meetings, agreed that "he'd really missed something."

"We should have more of them," was the way Mrs. Hallie Righter, of 308 North Charlotte street, felt about the square dances. Mrs. Righter did a good share of hopping around which she said brought back memories of the dancing school she had attended in her teens.

A STEADY club member Mrs. Righter said "she felt the need of outside recreation" now that her children are all married so she became a Golden Age club member. She proudly added, "I have only missed two meetings," because of unavoidable circumstances.

The Golden Age club which has filled a gap in the lives of older folk was born out of the conferences of Mr. Donnon, Miss Leona Smith, of the Visiting Nurse association; Mrs. Alex Tisdale, executive director of the YWCA; and Miss Martha Shoemaker, executive secretary of Family Welfare Society.

It took quite a bit of planning before the project could be organized and presented to Miss Georgene Bower, director of recreation for older people of Philadelphia. Miss Bower offered her invaluable aid and experience helped to establish the Golden Age club here.

The club is financed by the Pottstown Recreation commission and by donations from club members. Director Mr. Donnon remarked that it is practically getting to the self supporting stage.

Actually it is a co-operative project of the Recreation commission and the Business and Professional Women's club which has supported the club by raising funds. The members of the BFWC are also giving their time to making the weekly afternoon social a success.

Mrs. Minnie Buchert, Mrs. Florence Purnell and Mrs. Ruth Ecker are on hand every Monday to prepare and serve refreshments which are served after the activities. Mrs. Rhoda Keiser, Mrs. Margaret Small, Mrs. Velma Biefgen also assist Mrs. Nagle with games and activities. They are all members of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Club members come from near and far and many do not have means of transportation. They rely on the Red Cross cars and also those of the Visiting Nurse association for a return trip home. These organizations have given a great deal of aid as far as the transportation problem is concerned. But the club is outgrowing the use of the cars on hand and additional transportation service is needed.

When the club held its opening meeting in April approximately 42 members registered. There have been as many as 115 members in attendance since the early days. The regular attendance is about 50 people a meeting, and the group is gradually growing for those of the "golden age" have found a bright and cheery entertainment world all of their own.

Meetings are held every Monday afternoon at the YWCA.

Mr. Douglass Pagett, Miss Norma V. Trunk United in Marriage

The marriage of Miss Norma Virginia Trunk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Trunk, Schuylkill Road, and Mr. Douglas Howard Pagett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Pagett, Collegeville, took place at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church, Ridge Road.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert F. Brilhart before a background of ferns and baskets of white chrysanthemums. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, organist, and Mrs. Leslie Prizer, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an eighteenth century bridal gown of Skinner's satin and imported Chantilly lace, with a fingertip veil of bridal illusion attached to a beaded tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Frank Clement, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor in a lilac satin gown with low cut neckline, full bustled skirt with moderate train effect, and matching mitts.

THE BRIDESMAIDS were Mrs. Harry Troutman and Mrs. William Motes. They wore gold and frost-green satin gowns similar to that of the matron of honor. All attendants wore headaddresses of miniature chrysanthemums and illusion, and carried semi-colonial bouquets of blended shades of chrysanthemums.

Pamela Trunk, and Ruth Clement, nieces of the bride were flower girls. They wore white taffeta gowns with pink and blue sashes, and carried baskets of baby chrysanthemums.

Mr. Harry Troutman, Collegeville,

Weekly Messages to Tell The Miracle of America

Do you know what makes America great?

Do you know what is meant when we speak of our "economic system" and credit it with making our nation the wonderful place it is today?

Have you ever paused to take stock, look on the good thing of life we enjoy today compared with the things our parents and grandparents lacked?

Why should we be interested in preserving our basic system of free enterprise? These questions and many others often asked in the current fight against Communism will be answered in the "Miracle of America," a series of full-page advertisements to be published soon in The Mercury.

Believing that people in this area would welcome a series of articles touching upon the advantages their country offers—and which are seldom appreciated because they are taken for granted—a series of weekly messages on this theme, prepared by the Advertising Council, Inc., a non-profit organization of industrial and civic leaders dedicated to public service, will be made possible through the cooperation of public-spirited, patriotic organizations, professional men and women and private citizens.

Each week for 12 weeks there will appear in this paper a page devoted to the "American Way of Life" which will bring home to every reader the true facts, showing the advantages of our economic system over those of any other nation.

The articles will point out that between 1900 and 1950 the United States has grown to be the wealthiest and most productive nation the world has ever known. They will compare the American system with the Communist plan and attempt to identify and expose the subversive elements that would betray the nation.

The messages point out that the history of the United States proves that freedom and economic security must grow together.

Respectability Hinges On Easton Wage Boost

EASTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Firemen and police of Easton today petitioned city council for an increase of $10 weekly to a base pay of $3500 a year.

The 88 members of the two departments said the raise is needed to enable them to "maintain a status of respectability in the community."

Mayor Joseph Morrison told them council will give the request "very serious consideration."

The Coventryville Methodist WSCS members will be guests of the Nantmeal church organization at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Creswell McGee, tomorrow. Miss Margaret Kulp will give an illustrated talk on her extensive travels.

They also said that company officers, curious about that amount of spot cash, had made inquiries, which satisfied them that the offer was bona fide.

Federal investigators were interested in the case partly because Crusco was associated with Richard Samuel, son of Philadelphia Mayor Bernard Samuel.

The mayor's grandson, Richard Jr., worked in the company office for a short time before the company went into bankruptcy proceedings in 1949.

Awards Presented At Meetings Here of Boy Scout Troops

Presentation of awards marked the meetings of Pottstown Boy Scout troops Monday night.

Two scouts in Troop 18, of St. James Lutheran church, were presented with badges they won at a recent court of honor.

William Glenney was presented a Life Scout badge, while William Mohn received a Star Scout badge.

Edward Jameson, scoutmaster, had charge of the session. He was assisted by Walter Wetherhold, assistant scoutmaster.

The presentation of badges was followed by instruction in the use of a knife and axe, with emphasis placed on the sharpening of the tools and safety provisions for handling them. Later, the 18 scouts who attended the meeting joined the church brotherhood group to watch motion pictures.

AT TROOP 12, of St. Aloysius Catholic church, Paul Kaas was presented with a First Class scout badge for which he qualified at the court of honor. The presentation was made by Irvin Reigner, scoutmaster.

Reigner made an inspection of the troop, checking on uniforms and insignia for council records.

CHARLES MARQUETTE, assistant scoutmaster, had charge of the meeting of Troop 9, sponsored by the Orioles.

The meeting was held at the troop headquarters behind Antrim's Glass shop, 62 High street. It was highlighted by instruction in map reading given by Marquette, and a first aid session conducted by Richard Raugh, junior assistant scoutmaster.

Scouts of the troop reviewed a hike to the Ironstone creek, above Pine Forge, which they took Sunday. The review session was held to point out those things learned which will help each scout in his own advancement.

In television a "flag" isn't always a flag, but a large sheet of material used to screen off light from the camera.

Ellis Is Renominated Hilldale Group President

Luther W. Ellis, president of the Hilldale Tenants association, was nominated unopposed for another term at a meeting Monday night in the village's administration building.

Others nominated were William Myers, vice president, Mrs. Major, treasurer, and Robert Adams, secretary. Election will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the administration building.

U. S. Pledges Funds, Arms to Strengthen Military of France

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — The United States promised France today it will provide from $1,800,000,000 to $2,400,000,000 in American arms and money to French forces in Europe and Indo-China by the end of 1951.

An informed government official said this arrangement was worked out during conferences with the French defense minister and finance minister which ended today.

The money would come from the total of approximately $6,000,000,000 which Congress already has appropriated to re-arm nearly 20 friendly countries against the threat of Communist aggression.

France will get from 30 to 40 percent of this total, this official said.

IN A FORMAL announcement, the State department said it will make available a fund of $200,000,000 before June 30 to help French factories turn out a bigger flow of military equipment.

A French spokesman told reporters the promised American aid is intended to equip ten French divisions on the European continent by the end of next year.

"The United States government has expressed the view that a military effort of the general magnitude and character planned by the French government would be a vital contribution to the defensive strength of the North Atlantic area," the State department said.

28 Die in Crash Of British Plane, 1 Thrown Clear

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—With one engine dead, a British airliner hurtled out of a mist over a London suburb today, skidded the tops of several houses and plunged into a brick garden wall, killing all but one of the 29 persons aboard.

Two Americans were killed in the crash. They were identified as Lt. and Mrs. Thomas Karr. Karr was a U. S. Air Force officer based in the Azores.

The liner was a two-engine British European Airways Dakota. It was trying to get back to its home base at Northolt airport when it crashed at Mill Hill, a middle class residential neighborhood.

It crumpled into a garden of one of the houses, flipped on its back, exploded and burned. A witness said the plane looked like a "big ball of fire."

THE ONLY survivor, a steward, was flung 100 yards. Besides the crew of five, there were 15 men passengers, eight women and an infant.

The crash occurred at 3 p. m. Only a few minutes previously the plane had taken off for Glasgow, Scotland. Then its captain radioed that he was turning back to Northolt airport.

The Dakota, groping through the mist and losing height, tore off the top branches of a number of trees and ripped telephone wires before flopping on its back into the grounds of Highwood Ash, a 10-roomed country house.

Chinese Reds Got Strategic Material, Ship Master Admits

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The master of the U. S. Freighter "Flying Cloud" acknowledged today that he delivered steel plate, radio tubes, wire and other material to Communist China after the outbreak of the Korean war.

But the skipper, Capt. F. H. Rylander, denied his cargoes were contraband and swore they had been cleared by U. S. Customs officials and Army authorities.

Rylander gave his version of the "Flying Cloud's" China trade to a Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating the incident.

Chairman O'Connor (D-Md.) told Rylander: "It seems to me it's reprehensible for any shipments of strategic materials to be sent to Red China at this time. If there is anything wrong, we intend to get it and expose it."

THE SENATOR said officials of the State and Commerce departments will be asked to testify when hearings are resumed on Thursday. He said he is particularly interested in finding out what American materials are going to China, whose Communist leaders have long threatened to invade Formosa, now being guarded by the U. S. Seventh fleet, and have hinted at aid to Red Korea.

Rylander conceded that he had intended to deliver some 5000 drums of oil to China until members of the "Flying Cloud's" crew protested and U. S. Army Intelligence reportedly intervened.

He said the ship—owned by the Isbrandtsen line with headquarters in New York—unloaded the oil drums at Yokohama, Japan, before the vessel sailed for Communist China ports.

2 More U. S. Vessels Destroyed by Mines

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Navy announced today the sinking of two more U. S. minesweepers by mines in Korean waters, with a casualty toll of one dead, 12 missing and 79 injured.

The two naval vessels, the Pirate and the Pledge, were lost Oct. 12 off the port of Wonsan. The sinkings brought to five the number of Navy ships either sunk or damaged by enemy mines in Korean naval operations.

The Pirate, commanded by Lieut. Cornelius E. McMullen of Lawrence, Mass., suffered six missing and 39 injured.

The Pledge, commanded by Lieut. Richard O. Young of Iverness, Fla., suffered one dead, six missing and 40 injured.

THE 185-FOOT minesweepers struck separate mines barely six minutes apart while engaged in sweeping operations off Wonsan. Survivors were picked up by the minesweepers Endicott and Incredible under the fire of shore batteries.

Legless Korea Vet Shrugs Off Loss, Comforts Tearful Parents

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Oct. 17 (AP)—"Shucks. Mom, don't cry about me. There are other fellows a lot worse off."

This was Korean war hero Bobby Mullen's greeting to the mother he'd written "Please don't worry about me" after he'd lost his legs in an explosion at Inchon.

The plucky 19-year-old Army private first class from Boston embraced his mother for the first time in 27 months last night while his father stood by, smiling through tears.

Bobby was a boy who never wanted his Mom and Dad to "worry and feel bad" and so concealed his boyhood hurts. When he was 17 he begged them to let him join the Army and "see some of the world."

Last Oct. 3 Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mullen got this letter from their son, who was enroute home on a transport.

"Dear Ma and Dad," "I'm on my way home, but I'm bringing some bad news. I hope you don't take this so hard as some people would. I went to Korea and got wounded in both legs. They had to be amputated. I only remember the explosion and the hospital at Inchon."

"I'M RELIEVED to get away from it all, Mom and Dad, and there will be something to look forward to when I see you people again. The only thing I'm worried about is you folks. I don't want you to be worrying and going around with tears in your eyes. "The best years of my life are still ahead of me."

There was another line: "Please excuse the handwriting as I am a bit shaky at present. "Your loving son, Bob."

The Air Force cut red tape to allow Bobby's parents to visit him promptly after he landed and he didn't know they'd be there. He was "awful surprised."

Later the young hero was taken to the base hospital where the family chatted a while longer. Today he and five other wounded men who arrived here with him were flown to Philadelphia for treatment at the Naval hospital.

Russia Demands Seat In Peace Patrol Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 17 (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded today that the big powers, including Russia, be given seats on a proposed U. N. Peace Patrol commission. But sponsors of the American-supported plan turned him down until they can see how the Soviet Union will act on their whole anti-aggression program.

Vishinsky spoke in the 60-nation political committee of the U. N. assembly after a 40-minute closed-door session with John Foster Dulles, American delegate and one of the chief framers of the anti-aggression resolution.

The two delegates were smiling after their talk but it appeared they had reached no agreement on the program, known in the committee as the seven-point proposal on "United Action for Peace."

After the meeting, Dulles issued this statement: "We talked over some of our differences regarding the United Action for Peace resolution. There was a full and frank exchange of views without positive results, other than a better understanding of our respective positions."

BEFORE HE passed out the statement Dulles showed it to Vishinsky, who said it was the way he felt about it, too.

Vishinsky opposed a section of the seven-nation proposal calling for U. N. members to maintain military units for an emergency call from the U. N.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

LITTLE WENDY was allowed to stay up fifteen minutes beyond her usual bedtime to finish a story of the Pilgrims. One of the illustrations showed the Pilgrims fighting Indians with their old-fashioned muskets. As she climbed into her pajamas, Wendy reported, "The Pilgrims shot turkeys and Indians with their clarinets."

Joe Frisco, the stuttering comic, was going through one of his lean periods, and owed five weeks' back rent on his room in Palm Springs. Suddenly he spied the hotel manager and called, "C-c-come on over to the b-b-bar and let me buy you a d-d-drink." Nothing doing," said the manager. "I can't afford it."

Two comedians discovered that they were using the same jokes in their monologues and almost came to blows over it in Lindy's Restaurant. "I had it first," screamed Joe. "Gwan," jeered Blow. "I read in a Broadway column yesterday. 'So did I,'" admitted Joe, "but I read it in the FIRST EDITION!"

An automobile dealer called a customer and gave him a piece of news he had long waited to hear. His new car had arrived. "There are a few things, though," cautioned the dealer, "you're going to have to get by without for a while. Bumpers, hub caps, heater, radio, back seat cushion..." "Pardon my interrupting," said the customer. "But may I ask if it has an engine?"

Warwick Booters Trim Hill JVs; Varsity to Play

Bill Bedi's brace of first half goals gave Warwick High's soccer team a 2-0 victory over The Hill Javes yesterday on Kaul field.

Bedi's first goal came in the first period on a free kick while his second counter was booted home after a pass from Carl Horner in the second period.

In other far fields soccer activity, the Warwick Javes were smothered, 7-1, by The Hill Thirds, and The Hill Middies were victorious over the Warwick Juniors, 1-0.

Bob Browne, Lou Pineda, Bruce DeSchryber, Mark Rollins and Carlos Boliver all tallied once in the rout of the Warwick second-liners, and Steve Pineda rolled a pair of scores past the losers' goal.

Bill Stephens' second period punch past the goalkeeper was the only Warwick score.

Bob Hydeman kicked in the game's only marker as The Hill Middies edged the Warwick Juniors in the final quarter.

It was the first engagement of the season for all three Hill elevens. This afternoon at 3:30, the Blue varsity meets Lafayette Fresh with a lossless string of three games on the line. The local squad has beaten Abington High and Perkiomen, in addition to stalemating strong Princeton Freshmen.

No changes were listed for The Hill starting lineup.

PHS Girls for Warriors, Still Trails Statistically
Pottstown High's Trojans, all even on the season with two wins, two setbacks, began pointing yesterday for West Chester's score-geared Warriors, whom they met Saturday at West Chester.

It will be the second Chestnut league tussle for the Trojans, and while the grid loop has not been officially launched, Pottstown hopes to hold its own in the informal circuit. And Coach Heeb Meyers hopes to get his charges away in that direction this weekend.

Except for the general run of bruises and bumps, the Trojans came through their 7-0 defeat at the hands of unbeaten Phoenixville in good physical condition. However, there may be changes made in the team's backfield before it faces West Chester.

Meanwhile, the Trojans were still statistical losers for the season after the Phoenix defeat. In one bracket, however, the all-important first down column, Pottstown has stalemated four foes at 29 apiece.

And while only four of the Trojan first downs have been the result of passes, Trojan throwers show a creditable 50 percent completion record on 16 right in 32 pegs. Foes have completed 18 of 47.

Way off balance is the penalty column which shows that the locals have been playing according to Hoyle. They've lost but 95 yards while foes have been docked 254 for infractions.

Mike Duka, one of the brightest stars in a starry football era at East Greenville High, has taken a prohibitive stranglehold on the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley individual scoring race with little more than half the season history.

The willowy halfback in four league games has run up an astounding 79 points, almost 20 per cent. He has scored a dozen touchdowns and booted seven extra points to gain a 48-point lead over Royersford's Gary Grater.

In 1949, the gusty Greenie was an All-Perk selection at halfback. He specialized then in pass-grabbing, leaving the running (and scoring) burden to big Dick Ziegler.

Zig, of course, was considered the last word in football players along Route 29. That was before Duka.

Now East Greenville is justifiably agog over its boy, Mike. They like to point out in East Greenville that while Duka rambles better against the lesser clubs, he plays no favorites.

Against Quakertown and Spring City, both noteworthy foes, Mike collected four touchdowns. His two against the Quakers was the difference in a one-touchdown victory.

AND YOU DON'T catch Duka cleaning up on one-yard plunges. His TD production includes runs up to 75 yds in length, many of which necessitated some fancy stepping and some bolo charging through entire defending units.

Mike's supremacy amongst scorers in the Perk league and Montgomery county in general is a foregone conclusion, but the race for second place in the circuit is a hot one.

Grater has knifed into the end zone five times and bucked for one point to get 31 markers. Next in line are Spring City's Bob Mosteller, a fleet end-circling specialist, and Bobby Frank, Duka's running mate, each of whom have tabbed 24 points on four TDs each.

John Moorehead, who will prove a decided threat when his Collegeville team begins to battle in Little Four play, has scored 20 points. They have come against top teams—13 against Royersford and seven against Norco.

Also in the three-TD bracket is East Greenville's sub halfback Ron Sell, an 18-pointer.

Hill School Thirds Trim West Pottsgrove, 14-0

An alert Hill School Thirds team shoved over a touchdown in the first three minutes yesterday, then went on to defeat West Pottsgrove High, 14-0, on the Far field.

It was the opening game of the year for the Thirds, and the Falcons' fourth straight defeat.

A fumbled kickoff and a Hill recovery right after the opening whistle set the Thirds in action on West Pottsgrove's 17-yard line. With two and a half minutes gone in the game, Max Pearson circled end and scored from the 12-yard line. Ben Brown booted an extra point attempt and Hill was ahead for good.

The second Hill tally was the result of a 55-yard drive, climaxed by Bob Williams' 25-yard jaunt on a tackle-piercing play. Again Brown's conversion was perfect and the two teams were through for the day on the scoreboard.

WEST POTTS GROVE stirred up a threat in the third period when it completed a pass on the hosts' seven-yard line. But Hill held for four downs and took over, thereby blunting the only serious Falcon threat.

Russ Douglas, rangy Falcon fullback, stood out for the visitors, once going 55 yards to an apparent touchdown.

Schoolboy Dies Of Grid Injury
CAMDEN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Ben (Sonny) Morrell, captain and star halfback of the Camden Catholic High school football team, died today of injuries suffered in a game with Bridgeton High school. Morrell was injured in a pileup.

JHS 125's, 100's Win To Remain Undefeated

Pottstown Junior High's undefeated pound teams turned in two blanketing jobs yesterday to keep their records intact when the 125-pounders licked Norco, 20-0, and the 100's nipped Conshohocken's yearlings, 6-0. Both games were played on foreign turfs. Each team now has won two straight and neither have been scored upon.

Coach Wisner's 125's scored in each of the last three periods at Norco, striking once by land and twice through the air. Quarterback Al Bodulus had a hand in every tally.

In second period the locals drove half the length of the field and Bodulus plunged over from the one-yard line on a quarterback sneak.

In the third round, Bodulus flipped a touchdown aerial to end Bill Rhoads; and in the finale, Bo was good on a fling to Bob Grow in the end zone.

AT CONSHOHOCKEN, Coach Spence Lessig's mites made one 75-yard scoring thrust to do a job for them. It was covered in one play when quarterback Bobby Weiser flipped a five-yard pass to end Bob Ziegler, and Ziegler outdistanced the field for 70 TD yards.

Mystery?
Chandler Calls Meeting of All Baseball Moguls
CINCINNATI, Oct. 17 (AP)—Major league baseball club owners were asked by Commissioner A. B. Chandler today to meet with him Nov. 16, but the reason was not disclosed.

However, insofar as is known, there are two major problems known to be confronting the big boys of the game at this time—distribution of the World Series radio and television money, and possible abolishing or revision of the player bonus rule.

Some of the players began clamoring immediately when television and radio rights at the 1950 World Series were sold for $975,000. They wanted a cut of that money.

The demand was squelched by the commissioner at the time, but some of the players, through Freddy Hutchinson, Detroit, and Marty Marion, St. Louis, have kept it alive.

Marion and Hutchinson represent the athletes in matters coming before commissioner Chandler.

WHETHER THEY will appear, with or without invitation, to press the matter on Nov. 16, remained unanswered today.

No comment as to the agenda for the meeting. Walter Mulbrey, secretary of baseball, said.

Mulbrey announced the call for the moguls to meet with Chandler and himself.

The radio and television fortune is earmarked for the players' pension fund this year, as in the past. Players and club owners also contribute to that fund.

How big the fund is at the present time has not been disclosed, but Mulbrey, who also is its secretary, said before the World Series: "That $975,000 insures the continuance of the pension."

OUTDOORS

By BOB JAMISON
Canadian geese are rather rare in this locality. It has been quite a few years since anyone killed a wild goose in this section of the state.

Saturday morning while Walter "Fritz" Quigley, 562 N. State street, was after duck along the Schuylkill river he heard several geese honking upstream. In trying to get near them he chased out a flock of ducks but refused to shoot for fear of frightening the geese.

Quigley finally bagged a seven and a half pound Canadian goose. When dressed it weighed six and one quarter pounds.

Other duck hunters bagging a few the first two days were Glenn Hartenstein and Floyd Overholzer with the limit of four each. Albert Gotta and Samuel Chleffo, both of Stowe, each downed one black duck. Mike Powers, Schwenksville, shot a mallard while Donald Harmon, also of Schwenksville, killed a wood duck. John Hovart, 433 May street, Pottstown, bagged two ducks the first day.

Woodcock hunter Lloyd Young, The Hill school, hunted three days last week and bagged three woodcock, one each day. Young says that the woodcock have not bunched up yet and should do so in a week or so.

Trojanettes Seek Fourth Straight Hockey Nod Today

Driving toward the first unbeaten hockey season in many a year, Coach Marjan Trivelp's Pottstown High Trojanettes take on Downingtown High this afternoon on Franklin field annex in a 3:15 contest.

The Trojanettes, weak to the point of collapse in recent years, have turned in a surprising three-game win streak this year. They opened by trouncing West Chester, a team they never had beaten, then trimmed Phoenixville and Bridgeport.

A victory today, no matter what goes on hereafter, would make the current season a whopping success.

Army Holds Poll Lead; Sooners 2nd, SMU 3rd

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Resurgence of the South and Southwest to a place of high respect is the main feature of the first month's skirmishing in college football.

Army's swift-striking Cadets head the national standings for the second week in a row today but a rundown of the Associated Press top twenty shows no single section dominant.

Also no team overshadowed the others as overwhelmingly as Army did during the war and as did Notre Dame and Michigan immediately afterward.

The new first ten, chosen by a vote of 275 sports writers and broadcasters, is:

Army, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Kentucky, California, Stanford, Texas, Maryland, Ohio State and Washington.

Every section is represented and all except the East, which boasts No. 1 Army, have at least two teams.

The final poll last year carried a heavy Middle West flavor, with five of the top ten teams from the rugged midlands. The Pacific Coast furnished two and the other sections picked up the scraps.

The South, which in 1949 suffered repeated intersectional indignities, now has seven of the first 20 teams, the best record of all. The Midwest has five, the Southwest and Far West three each and the East two.

ARMY, WHICH plays a weak Harvard team Saturday, gained 124 first place votes on the strength of its 27-6 victory over Michigan Saturday at Yankee Stadium.

This ballooned the Cadets' point total to 2427 on the basis of ten points for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down the line.

Oklahoma barely edged out Southern Methodist for second place although the Sooners were pressed to beat Texas, 14-13, while the Mustangs smashed Oklahoma A. and M. 56-6.

The Sooners received 2315 points to 2312 for SMU despite the Mustangs' larger collection of No. 1 votes, 63 to 47. Oklahoma will play Kansas State Saturday. SMU will meet dangerous Rice, the Southwest champion, Saturday night.

Kentucky will be at Villanova, California will be at Oregon State, Stanford will play UCLA, Texas will take on Arkansas, Maryland will meet North Carolina State, Ohio State will be at Minnesota and Washington will invade Illinois.

If it seems strange to go this far without mentioning Notre Dame, it is not an oversight. The Fighting Irish, beaten by Purdue ten days ago, dropped from the first ten for the first time since the lean war years, and whatever became of Purdue.

The top teams (number in brackets first place votes):

1. Army (124) 2427

Lehigh Preps Defense

BETHLEHEM, Oct. 17 (AP)—Pass defense against Johnny Clayton and his Dartmouth teammates featured Lehigh university's football practice today.

The Lehigh Freshman operated on offense with the Dartmouth pass patterns during a long workout.

Coach Bill Leckonby also worked on his own attack with Herb Weiss tossing long passes.

Tied for third with 31 points each at Joe Gerencser, Moravian and Lyle Peluso of Geneva, who has crossed the goal line only four times but has converted seven extra points.

Records on the Board

Francis (Reds) Bagnell, University of Pennsylvania halfback, stands beside blackboard on which are chalked the intercollegiate records he set during Dartmouth game Saturday. Bagnell completed 14 passes in succession for 204 yards. Twenty completed passes in 29 attempts brought the yard gain in the air to 276 yards. In addition he carried 214 yards in rushing for a grand total of 490 yards.

Penn's Bagnell Leaps Near Top in Grid Yardage Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Francis Bagnell, a driving Penn tailback boasting an odd nickname, giant-stepped from 42nd to third place today in the major college football yardage race.

Reds set a new all-time, single-game record in making the big advance. He gained 490 yards running and passing in Penn's 42-26 whipping of Dartmouth Saturday. The one-man assault broke the mark of 488 set in 1943 by Bob Hoehnsmeyer of Indiana.

The husky Penn ace ran 214 yards in 18 carries and completed 20 of 29 passes for 276 more. Bagnell now has 811 yards in three games, according to statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

But that superior performance didn't do Bagnell too much good in gaining on Johnny Bright, Drake's 200-pound Negro star.

Bright, 1949 champion, retained his first-place spot with a gain of 395 yards, as Drake walloped Iowa State Teachers, 34-18. In the all-time standings, that's third only to Bagnell and Hoehnsmeyer.

The Drake star now has 1340 yards in five games, well ahead of the all-time season pace set by Frank Sinkwich of Georgia in 1942.

Bright has to average 212 yards in Drake's four remaining games to best Sinkwich, who gained 2187 yards in 1942.

Bill Wade of Vanderbilt held off Bagnell to retain second place in total offense at 869 yards in four games.

Knee-Hi Champs Honored by Elks

The Elks' plucky knee-hi baseball team, playoff champions of the Recreation commission's first Knee-Hi Baseball league, were honored and honored like champs last night at the Elks lodge.

The midget baseballers, ranging in age from nine to 12 years, were the center of attraction at a gala turkey dinner banquet that attracted all the "brass" of the lodge, fathers of the players, and interested parties representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A trophy symbolic of their championship was presented to the team by Dick Gross, representative of the Jaycees, who donated the award.

Gross had served as an official in the league long with Albert Hartman, John Miller and Hathaway Geyer, all Jaycee members who were present last night.

HOWARD CATES, erstwhile big league pitcher and now a Boston Braves scout and accomplished after-dinner speaker, delivered the main address.

In his dynamic style, Cates spoke directly to and for the benefit of the honored players. He pointed out that theirs was a great heritage, to be Americans and to be American boys.

Cates pointed out the wonderful opportunity each of the players enjoyed of becoming major leaguers in a country where sports are held in highest esteem.

Other talks were given by O. Donald Kunkel, Exalted Ruler of the lodge, Burgess William Griffith, Chief of Police James Laughead, Francis Donnon, Recreation commission director, and Lew Borgiet, manager of the Elks knee-hi team.

Kunkel presented Borgiet and his three assistants, Gabe Pieni, Woodrow Bushey and Len Harp with presents for the fine work they had done with the team.

ELKS MEMBER George A. Lessig served as master of ceremonies. He commented briefly on the success of the team, introduced the speakers and called upon Elks board of governors and parents of the players to take a bow.

"Now," said Lessig, "I can truthfully say that, at the first Elks midget banquet, everybody stood on his feet during the course of the program."
